"Let your light shine." Matthew 5:16

It has been a very exciting two weeks at Lea Endowed. Last week the Year 6's showed incredible calm and resilience as they tackled their SATs week with maturity and strength of character! A huge well done for doing your best Year 6- we are all very proud of you. This week has been bursting to the brim with Extreme English activities. A heartfelt thank you to all the families who went to such a big effort in joining in with the Extreme Reading competition- the entries were so creative-it has been great to see the children enjoying reading in so many exciting places - it has been so hard to choose the winners! Thank you also for your help with today's special Dress Up as a Book Character Day! What a wide range we had in school today...everything from Paddington to the Queen of Hearts. Look out for photos on the school website. These are very special times making lifetime memories 😊 Yesterday, the author Dan Worsley spent a fantastic day with us inspiring the children with his books and writing workshops. He told us, he "loved" his day with us too, saying it was, "a joy" to be with us and the children are, "Brilliant; a credit to themselves and to the school." Thank You to those parents, grandparents, and relatives of the Year 1 children, who came to enjoy them leading our whole school worship. I'm sure you'd all agree that they shone so brightly.

Mrs Seagrave's Great Manners Award
 In the last two weeks, I have been delighted to present my special awards for excellent manners and a respectful attitude to:
Harry N in Year 2
 &
Micah in Year 5
 Well done and keep shining brightly.
 I am very proud of you both.

Roadworks Update

This week I have had notification that the United Utilities work being carried out by Bethell is unfortunately going to further impact on our access to parking around school. I have clearly stated my deep concern about this matter, to both companies. Please see the letter from United Utilities explaining this is, in no way, the responsibility of school. For any queries you can contact:
