Class News

Welcome back to the final term of 2024 – a term that promises to be extremely busy in the run-up to Christmas!

We will be making many cross-curricular links over the next few weeks, starting with understanding the causes of WW1 in History and how the news of it beginning affected the characters in our English novel, War Horse. In Science we have revisited our knowledge of circuits which we hope to put into good use later this term when we design an alarm to catch a very famous character!

Last term, we enjoyed learning about the rich heritage of PNE Football Club. Today, the children practised their oracy skills when they informed the whole school of the amazing life and achievements of Arthur Wharton, the first black professional footballer. It was hard to believe that, despite his achievements, Arthur was buried in an unmarked grave.

Our next oracy opportunity will be the Remembrance Service on the 11th November where Year 6 parents are welcome to attend.
